The first Priscilla Hutchins novel from Jack McDevitt, hailed by Stephen King as "the logical heir to Isaac Asimov and Arthur C. Clarke." Humans call them the Monument-Makers. An unknown race, they left stunning alien statues on distant planets in the galaxy. Each relic is different. Each inscription defies translation. Yet all are heartbreakingly beautiful. And for planet Earth, on the brink of disaster, they may hold the only key to survival for the entire human race.

Come along with Principal Frank N. Stein into a bright, energetic classroom where the class pet is a big purple boa constrictor, recess is in a swamp, and class bats help build a Creepy Castle in the Award-winning writer Jane Yolen teams up with her daughter, Heidi, to present colorful monster children who have familiar human issues such as making friends and learning to help others. In a final twist, Tornado Jo -- the worst behaved student -- is revealed to be an out-of-control human, not a monster after all. Oh, no! Monsters are more afraid of humans than we are of them! I found my five Virtues... but they didn't want to be found. Talk about reluctant. My five Virtues all need to be taught a lesson, even Kaito, my mentor who thinks he knows everything-FYI, he doesn't. Hendrik, a dark mage who thinks he's still pulling the strings. Logan, a wolf shifter who hasn't caught on that I'm really his alpha. Dante, a brutal hunter who doesn't realize he's the one being hunted. Orion, a playboy demigod who hates that all he wants now is me-and no one else. He'll be the hardest of all to break. The tables have turned and there's a monster loose in Fortune Academy (hell yeah, that's me, by the way). A year has passed on the outside, but it's only been a few short weeks for supernaturals who are ramping up for Fortune Academy's big exam. This is a test of our fortitude and our powers unlike any we've had before. The Third Echo of Calamity is on its way to Earth and I need to be ready for it, which means I am going to need my Virtues on my side. I feel them in my soul and have never been more certain of anything in my life. I've called my Virtues to me, whether they are ready or not. They are mine. The most detailed and comprehensive treatise on swordsmanship ever written, Gerard Thibault's Academy of the Sword offers an extraordinary glimpse into a forgotten landscape of ideas, in which Pythagorean sacred geometry illuminated the lethal realities of rapier combat to create one of the Western world's only thoroughly documented esoteric martial arts. Translated by the widely respected occultist and scholar John Michael Greer, this stunningly illustrated and precisely detailed manual of Renaissance swordsmanship is a triumphant document of Renaissance culture—as well as a practical manual of a martial art that can still be studied and practiced today. Grammar and Beyond

Evil exists. I know-I was created from it. Most students at Guardian Angel Academy lived a good, possibly boring life on earth before their untimely deaths, which landed them at the academy, learning how to be good guardians for the hapless mortals still breathing. Not me. My time on earth was spent as a servant of darkness, performing acts unmentionable to the undefiled ears of the angels at the academy. But somehow, I was given a chance at redemption. Somehow, I got enrolled here. And somehow, I have to prove myself worthy of my angel wings. Or I'll get sent back where I came from. Now if I can just survive the weapons instructor determined to find me guilty of demonry, the mysterious dark angel who won't get out of my thoughts, and the hot-as-you-know-where angel who hates my guts because of who I am. There is just one small problem . . . I made a promise. A promise to the lord of the devils. If I keep it, my soul is forever damned. But if I break it, I will be destroyed. I betrayed them all. I delivered the dagger to the underworld. And yet, the masters of the academy did not expel me. Instead, they gave me my wings and told me there is a plan for me. A plan for me? Sometimes it seems they've forgotten who I am. What I am. I can't forget. Nor can I forgive myself. But there might be a way to redeem myself. When the archangels offer me a chance to go to earth, I snatch it up. It means I'll learn more about mortality. How to relate to humans. And it means I'll get to spend more time with Maalik, the angel who taught me how to feel joy. Except earth is dangerous. Earth has temptations. Earth is confusing. And there are too many choices. I don't know what's right or wrong anymore. And I may have just ushered in the Great War.

“Jane Kenyon had a virtually faultless ear. She was an exquisite master of the art of poetry.” —Wendell Berry Published twenty-five years after her untimely death, The Best Poems of Jane Kenyon presents the essential work of one of America’s most cherished poets—celebrated for her tenacity, spirit, and grace. In their inquisitive explorations and direct language, Jane Kenyon’s poems disclose a quiet certainty in the natural world and a lifelong dialogue with her faith and her questioning of it. As a crucial aspect of these beloved poems of companionship, she confronts her struggle with severe depression on its own stark terms. Selected by Kenyon’s husband, Donald Hall, just before his death in 2018, The Best Poems of Jane Kenyon collects work from across a life and career that will be, as she writes in one poem, “simply lasting.”
